December 2006

Years roll by and another year comes to a close. As we enter 2007, the Aura wishes you and your family a very happy and prosperous new year. May this New Year lead you towards the path of newfound glories and happiness.

The last meeting for the year '06 has certainly paved the way to a new beginning. Mrs Padmalatha Suresh with her serene smile won over each and everyone present. The presentation involving the various aspects to be considered in evaluating a business opportunity kept the gathering glued to the proceedings

Members were syndicated into teams and each team conceived a business proposal. With the help of handy hints provided by Mrs.Suresh, each of the teams developed formal business plans and presented very innovative ideas of possible ventures in the services sector. The exercise reiterated that, women with their multi-tasking and management skills, honed by their domestic responsibilities, are better suited for entrepreneurship than their male counterparts!

Everyone is capable of having a revolutionary idea. Given the resources, they can bring their ideas to life, changing the future all of us will live in. Let's dive in and start on the road to greater productivity with the 'Microsoft Office' system.

Sam, an 8 year old kid loves going to the Web, and he keeps track of his passwords by writing them on Post-it notes.

His mother noticed that his Disney password was "MickeyMinnieGoofyPluto," and asked why it was so long.

"Because," he explained, "they say it has to have at least four characters."
